

News Release

For immediate release: Aug. 20, 2009

(09-133)

Contacts: Roger Lillejord, Riverbend Homeowners Association
Gordon MacCracken, Communications Office

425-829-6425
360-236-4072

Boil-water advisory ends for East King County development

OLYMPIA — Residents of the Riverbend development in East King County no longer have to boil their drinking water. The water has been retested and meets safe drinking water standards.

The Riverbend Homeowners Association water system issued the advisory Friday evening after routine monitoring tests showed that E. coli might be in the system. However, 10 additional water samples were collected and tests show the current water quality is good.

The advisory applied only to Riverbend Homesites, consisting of 533 homes and about 1,600 people. The development is off Interstate 90 Exit 32, east of North Bend.

###

Visit the Washington Department of Health Web site at <http://www.doh.wa.gov> for a healthy dose of information.